125th Garden Update
This week I have included a couple of photos of our refurbished 125th garden for those parents who are unable to come and have a look. Thanks again to the P&C and parents for their voluntary contributions. Your monetary generosity has fully funded this project. Thank you also to the P&C parents who have also donated many hours of their time to ensuring the success of the project. There are a few minor adjustments being made to the area this Friday to ensure the quality of the project and the viability of some of the musical instruments.

The area is very close to a number of classrooms and there are concerns with the noise level generated, in particular by the stepping bells and large wooden seating area (pictured). The loud ‘booming’ noise is such that to work in the nearby rooms, even with doors and windows closed, is not viable. We are working with the installer to rectify these issues.

This is an area for students during school hours. Parents who arrive early for school pick up are asked that preschoolers are not to be playing in the 125th garden. The current noise from the ‘bells’ and large wooden platform has been disturbing the learning of nearby classes. This noise often continues into the afternoon with parents and children in there until 4.00ish. The noise makes it extremely difficult for staff to work in their rooms after school hours. If parents would like to socialise after school hours I am requesting you take your children to an off-site park. The closest is located in the park behind our school – Gilham Street school exit.
Soccer Gala Day
Mr Cheeseman and 15 stage 3 students competed in the Hills/Gladesville/Hornsby soccer gala day last week. It was a round robin event with a final between the top 2 teams. Our students played extremely well and won the tournament. They now progress to the next level and represent the Hills/Gladesville/Hornsby area in September. Well done - we are very proud of you 😊

Rugby League
Well done to the boys who represented our school in Monday's Rugby League knockout competition. The boys played extremely well and showed great sportsmanship. They were unfortunately defeated but were congratulated by the other team as excellent competitors. Thank you also to Mr Holland and Mr Smith who organized the boys' participation in the event.

Canteen Closed
Due to the Castle Hill Café operating out of the canteen, the Canteen will be closed on Wednesday July 30.

Developing a sense of sharing in kids is really important for their future relationships as well as the well-being of our communities.

If there was one positive to come out of the terrible Victorian bushfires it was the astounding response of ordinary Australians to the plight of the bushfire victims. It seemed everyone wanted to do something to ease their burden.

Helping out wasn’t just left up to adults. Kids of all ages did their bit. It seems there wasn’t a school that didn’t have a sausage sizzle, free dress day or fund-raiser of some type. Kids everywhere passed on used toys, donated their pocket money, or volunteered to help in any way they could.

I heard the story of a nine year old whose mum went into his bedroom to growl at him for being up too late. She found him busy emptying his money box into little plastic bags, ready to donate at the school bushfire appeal next day. This mother was pretty chuffed as she knew the money box represented over 6 months pocket money, including Christmas contributions. She then helped him look through his drawers for any coins that he may have missed. There are plenty of stories like this showing the generosity of Australian kids.

The trick now is to keep alive this spirit of generosity that has been triggered by this tragedy. With families shrinking, kids get fewer opportunities to help others than before. They are less likely to help out at home without being paid.

And of course, young children are egocentric by nature so giving is not exactly a high priority for them. But part of a parent’s job is to remind children that the world doesn’t revolve around them.

In the eagerness to get kids off to a good start in life, a spirit of generosity is one quality that parents can easily overlook. Developing independence and personal competencies tend to be higher on most parents’ wish lists for their kids.

But developing a sense of sharing in kids is really important for their future relationships as well as the well-being of our communities. Children who are able to share their time, space and possessions generally have more friends and experience more success than those who are self-centred and mean-spirited.

Like most facets of child-rearing developing a community ethos in kids’ can be a frustrating task but perseverance and modeling are parents’ greatest allies when it comes to things that really matter.

Here are four practical ways to keep the spirit of generosity alive in your kids:

1. Encourage them to give toys, books and clothes away when they have finished with them.
2. Expect them to do at least one job at home each day that’s not tied to pocket-money.
3. Ask them to put away a small amount of pocket-money each week for charity or to help others.
4. Encourage them to visit, or even help, an elderly or sick neighbour, if safe to do so.

TSA Band Camp September 13-14 2014!
Yes, it’s that time of year again! Pull out your best swimmers for the waterslide, your grooviest PJ’s for the pyjama disco and get into training for the staff V students beach volleyball match!! (Oh, and you should probably practise your band music too!)

Whilst most kids come to camp for the excitement of new friends, fun activities and a weekend away, the real benefit is in the valuable experience (both musical and social) gained from such intensive time spent in such a highly musical environment. With over 8 hours of face-to-face tuition over the weekend, there is over a term and a half worth of 30 minute lessons to be had! Camp is also a valuable experience for students that may be losing interest in music and need a boost of enthusiasm and practice to get them to a level where they can enjoy their music and performance.

Notes for camp should have been received late last term outlining details including cost, venue, times and dates. If your child did not receive this note or you need another copy, please visit www.teachingservices.com.au and download the note. Permission notes, along with deposit, need to be returned ASAP to avoid missing out as the camp is now being finalised.

Glenhaven Public School – 125th Celebration

Glenhaven Public School is turning 125 this year! Since opening its doors as Sandhurst Primary School in 1889 (before the suburb was even known as Glenhaven), through to 2014, the school has played an integral role in the community and provided inspiration, encouragement and support for all of its students. Now, we would like to encourage as many of those students and families as possible to come back and celebrate this special occasion with us by reserving their place in the history of Glenhaven Public School.

As part of our 125 year celebrations, a commemorative paving project will be undertaken that will give past and present students, teachers, families and friends of Glenhaven Public School an opportunity to reserve their place in the history of the school. Individuals and families will have the chance to purchase a ‘personalised’ paver that will be laid on the school grounds as part of a commemorative walkway. An individual paver will cost $30 and a family paver (double size) will cost $60.
