Swimming Carnival

Yesterday the swimming carnival at Waves pool was outstanding! Not only was the weather kind to us, the positive feel to the day with so many students participating and engaging in physical activity was tremendous. Congratulations to the Year 3 team for organising a slick operation and for the parent helpers who assisted us on the day. Congratulations also to all the 2015 house captains for encouraging their house members to participate and be in fine voice with their cheers and chants. Everyone worked together in a productive manner and made the day a very engaging and enjoyable day. There are more details in the main body of the newsletter regarding yesterday’s carnival from the Year 3 team.

SRC Disco Thanks

The first disco of the year was a huge success! We had over 440 students showing off their dance moves. The SRC would like to thank the School Community Club for their contribution of the chips and poppers, the parents who helped, the teachers for supervising during the disco and the SRC representatives for selling tickets. A special thank you goes to the school leaders who danced all night and assisted in making all 3 discos a great success. We are looking forward to the next disco in Term 2.

I would also like to add my thanks to the student leaders and staff who gave up of their own time to attend the disco last Friday evening. These events can’t happen without staff supervising. Thank you also to Mrs Courtney and Mrs Lees for organising the first SRC disco for 2015!

Volunteer Teacher required for SRE – Buddhism

If you are a parent/community member who would like to volunteer to be trained as an SRE teacher in Buddhism at Castle Hill PS (by Buddhist Council of NSW), please get in touch with Pri via email: ayubowan@dodo.com.au

The program at CHPS is rather relaxed and suits any child who may like to be introduced to the teachings of Buddha. It is without a prayer & worship aspect. The aim of the program is to foster compassion, empathy and wisdom in young children and to build an open mind that accepts the diversity of the world – respecting different belief systems and ways of life. We do this by sharing Buddhist stories and applying these to our daily lives. We also try to build resilience to the emotional stressors that are part and parcel of daily life. For example, the students practise meditation for a minute or two and are encouraged to apply the technique by focusing on breathing for a few seconds if anyone upsets them. Our aim is to avoid tantrums and help children to find peace within themselves.

The volunteer teacher will not need an in-depth knowledge of Buddhism, but needs to be familiar with fundamental teachings and values – or willing to learn and practise a Buddhist way of life. The sessions are Wednesday from 9.30 to 10.00 am. You will get a lot of help from the experienced teacher until you are comfortable in your role – both teachers will be sharing the same classroom. The new teacher can start with K-Y1 students for an easier start. We have students with family backgrounds in both Mahayana and Theravada forms of Buddhism and also from non-Buddhist families.

PARENTING IDEAS – Michael Grose

Have a look at the website - www.parentingideas.com.au This week’s topic 10 Research-backed tips for raising happy kids.

I have just returned from a research trip to the Yale Center for Emotional Intelligence near New York. The Yale Center is home of the RULER Program, the world’s best emotional intelligence program for children and families.

The thing that I love about the RULER Program is that it’s totally evidence-based. Its effectiveness is backed by mountains of scientific evidence, so credibility is assured. But that’s all I can tell you about the program now – you’ll just have to wait.

In the meantime, there are plenty of other evidence-based tips for parenting that I can share with you. Here are 10 research-backed tips for raising what most parents want: happy, successful kids.

1. Birth order matters

Birth order is something parents need to work with. If you disregard the birth order of your children you are overlooking a vital piece of your parenting puzzle. For instance, research has shown that eldest children tend to experience greater mental health problems, particularly anxiety, than children in any other birth position.

2. Positive peers matter

Recent research I was involved in demonstrated that the wellbeing of teenage girls is highly influenced by their peer groups. A positive peer group usually equated with high life satisfaction regardless of what other factors where at play.

3. Parent mental health matters

If you want happy kids then you need to get yourself happy. Parent anxiety and depression is linked to behavioural problems in kids; it also makes our parenting less effective.
4. Sibling relationships matter
Research shows that over the long haul healthy relationships makes kids happier. But how do you go about teaching kids to get on? Start by encouraging children to build small acts of kindness, which builds empathy.

5. Developmental matching matters
A number of studies have shown that much of what is considered ‘poor parenting’ has more to do with poor developmental matching. Put simply, parents who raise an eleven-year-old like they did their eight-year-old may find that conflict and resistance become their constant companions, and unhappiness accompanies their child.

6. Good parenting matters
Permissive, laissez faire, autocratic or authoritative parenting? The links between authoritative parenting (a mixture of firmness, warmth and family participation) and children’s happiness and wellbeing are well drawn.

7. Family dinners matter
Significant research links family strength and children’s wellbeing with regular family mealtimes. Importantly, there is a high correlation between teenagers who eat with their family at least five times a week and good mental health.

8. Fun matters
Researchers believe that the dramatic drop in unstructured play time is in part responsible for slowing kids’ cognitive and emotional development. Unstructured play helps children learn how to work in groups, to share, negotiate, resolve conflicts, regulate their emotions and behaviour, and speak up for themselves.

9. Helping others matters
The Positive Psychology movement know what they are talking about when they put volunteering at the forefront of an individual’s wellbeing. Helping others makes you happy over the long term.

10. Emotional intelligence matters
Emotional intelligence is a skill, not an inborn trait. Kids learn best when they have concrete tools to assist their learning, whether learning to read (books come in handy), playing sport (a ball and some goalposts helps) or learning to dance (some suitable music helps).

Kindergarten News
Thank you to the parents who have volunteered to assist in the classroom with Kindergarten group work. If you have signed up to help in the classroom, please take your working with children approval number to the office for processing, this must be done before any parents can help in the classroom. A note is coming home today to all parents about helping in the classroom. All parent helpers are welcome to help from next Monday 9th March.

Please return your child’s red note folder each Thursday. Home readers are changed each Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Record and sign the home reader card for every night of reading.

A reminder to parents that for this week and the next 2 weeks Kindergarten students will have sport on Thursday, as students participate in lessons run by ‘Sport in Schools Australia’ (SiSA). Students should wear their sports uniform on Thursday.

Star of the Week
One student from each class is nominated to be the star of the week.
Sounds and Sight Words

Single sounds for this week are: o, g, h, l. These are learnt in class.
Sight words for the next few weeks in class are: I, a, and, be, of, to, is, in, it, the, was, that. These are known as the golden sight words. Your child has now brought home these words to learn in their home reader folder with suggested activities. Please take time to practice these words with your child.

50 Days Celebration

All Kindergarten parents are invited to attend Kindergarten’s end of term celebration in our school hall from 9.30am on Monday 30 March. All students participate in celebrating their first 50 days of school. Parents are invited to join with their child for a picnic morning tea in the playground following the celebration. You are welcome to bring small amounts of food to share and a cool drink to celebrate with other kindergarten students and their families. A note will be sent home next week.

PREMIER’S READING CHALLENGE 2015

The Challenge aims to encourage in students a love of reading for leisure and pleasure, and to enable them to experience quality literature. It is not a competition but a challenge to each student to read, to read more and to read more widely.

Bookclub

I am pleased to let the School Community know that a parent, Carrie Prosser-Saw, has very kindly stepped up to volunteer her time as our new Book Club Co-ordinator. I am very grateful and I know that she will do a fantastic job as she is very passionate about books and making them available for our children. I will continue to assist Carrie when she needs me but she will let you know what her contact details are for future enquiries.

As all the new format brochures have now arrived, Carrie and I will get those organised and sent home with students in the next couple of Wednesdays. Issues 1 & 2 will be sent out together just for this term. Normally there will be two separate issues sent home each term. Parents can now order directly online and pay for these orders with credit card. Cash and cheque orders can still be taken to the School Office where they will be put in a locked mail box to wait to be picked up. Credit vouchers can be redeemed online as they are now individually numbered.

Orders are packed at the Scholastic warehouse and will be distributed to Students each Wednesday. If you need a parent pick up order (for a birthday, large orders or for faster delivery), please write PARENT PICKUP with a contact phone number either on your paper form or in the name details online. For online orders it would probably be best if you also let Carrie know by sending her an email so she knows to look out for it. Parent Pick up orders will be left at the School Office and you will contacted to let you know it is ready for collection.

If you have any questions in this first term, please send me an email at katmullen@bigpond until Carrie is set up and ready to take on enquiries.

Term 1 Disco – thanks to volunteers

Thank you to those parents who assisted with handing out chips and drinks to our students after the disco on Friday. The kids once again loved their little treat, and the SCC appreciate your support in this activity.

Harmony Day – 18 March 2015

The school’s Harmony Day parade and celebration will be held on 18 March this year. Students are encouraged to wear national costume or something orange with their uniform. Orange is the colour that represents Harmony Day and to encourage student participation the SCC will be selling orange items to be worn with the school uniform. Items range in price from 20c to $3. All items are sold at cost price, as a convenience to parents. Students who otherwise do not have a national costume to wear but wish to participate and support their school community by celebrating and recognising the cultural diversity in our school, can purchase something at the SCC Harmony Day stalls.

Stalls will operate in the mornings before school starts from 8.30-9am on Monday 16, Tuesday 17, and Wednesday 18 March. Volunteers are needed to help with this activity. If you can help, please contact rebeccaoshea@iinet.net.au.

Next meeting: Tuesday 10 March at 9.15 in the staffroom. All welcome, including toddlers and babies. Please come along and join the conversation, find out what’s coming up at your school, and how you can be involved. Morning tea provided.
